State Urges Rogers Brook Plan Costing $881,000

Town's Share Approaches $450,000 For Complete Job

A reconstruction program for Rogers Brook, costing an over-all $881,000, has been proposed by the State Division of Waterways.

That division recommended immediate work on part one of a two-stage construction project. Estimated cost of the first stage is pegged at $383,500 by consulting engineers Hugh Duffill Associates.

On the basis of matching funds, the town has appropriated $175,000 for Rogers Brook drainage. Thus half the cost of the initial construction stage would come to slightly more than the town meet-authorized, town officials were quick to note.

The Selectmen and members of the Board of Public Works met Monday morning with the engineers to discuss the plans.

As an over-all project, the engineers recommended constructing a drainage system to handle the worst storm that might hit the town in a 50-year period. They also provided figures on lesser projects, based on the worst storm in a 25-year period and a 10-year period. But they also stressed the necessity of planning for the future rather than taking temporary steps that might not prove satisfactory in the future.

The Selectmen made it clear, following the session, that they would not approve the initial construction stage, which involves work from the river past Central st. and cleaning of the present brook bed east from Main st., until the town has an opportunity to pass on the complete plan. The second stage takes the work under Main st. to Whittier and also provides for lesser drainage construc-

(Author's Name Below)

Hardly a day passes but we are informed of progress being made in our constant fight against disease. Research workers are always looking for new drugs, antibiotics and man-made chemicals.

Each one is clinically tested against every possible ailment with the hope that a better way of treatment will be found. Millions of dollars are often spent to perfect a single new drug.

As soon as a new drug is released for safe use, we stock it in our prescription department. It is a remarkable achievement that the average charge of all the prescriptions dispensed is less than three dollars.

TRIAL NEXT MONDAY OVER TOWN GARAGE

Two requests for temporary injunctions, involving construction of the town garage addition, were denied last week in Superior Court, Boston.

The case itself was set for trial next Monday, Dec. 2, in Salem Superior Court in a jury-waived session. Judge Francis Goode will preside.

Suburban Household Enterprises had asked temporary injunction against the Cyr Construction Co. doing any more work on the garage addition. And a taxpayers' suit asked to have the town treasurer instructed not to pay any money to Cyr.

Suburban was low bidder on the job, at $23,900 while Cyr bid $24,395. Judge Vincent Brogna set the case for trial but refused the temporary injunctions on the general grounds that a relatively small amount of money is involved and that a prompt trial of the case could be obtained.

"I would like to express my appreciation for the understanding and cooperation that has been shown to me in my work with you. I would like to emphasize that I shall make myself available to you any time in the future if you require my assistance for any particular problem."

Maclaren is a native of Andover, a graduate of Phillips Academy and Wentworth Institute.

THE REV. W.D. TURKINGTON

On Wednesday evening, Dec. 4, at 7:30, a special series of services will begin at the Andover Baptist Church.

These services will be conducted by the Rev. William D.
Turkington of the Evangelistic
Association of New England. Mr.
Turkington was trained in the public schools of Ireland and after coming to America he was associated for some time with his uncle in evangelistic campaigns through the eastern and southern states.

He went to Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary and was graduated in Theology and Music.
One summer he was called upon by the American Baptist Home Mission Society to accompany the covered wagon, which followed the trails of the American pioneers from Boston to Portland, Ore.

Mr. Turkington has been in the chaplaincy and has served in North Africa and Italy with the First Armored Division. He retired from the army with the rank of captain, with citations.

The Rev. Mr. Turkington is an able preacher of the Gospel, a fine trumpet player, and sings Gospel hymns. The public is invited to attend the "Spiritual Invigoration Crusade".

The services will be held each night at 7:30, through Sunday evening, with the exception of

THANKSGIVING

From the forest, cold and murky,
Rode the first Thanksgiving
turkey.

On a Pilgrim far from fat
Picking arrows from his hat.
Mrs. Pilgrim and the kids Fired the kettle, watched the lids.

"Gee" they said "We're glad we're living.
This will be a swell Thanksgiving."

All they had was corn and turk, Indians, winter, prayer and work.

Compare our lot with those early Yanks
And every day's a day of thanks.

2 Gravel Hearings
Before Selectmen

The Selectmen held the first of two hearings Monday night on gravel pits under the new town by-law. Formerly the Board of Appeals had had the authority to issue licenses.

First was an application by Mrs.
Helen Morarian on whose property
Suburban Excavators of Wakefield wish to remove gravel to build the new Route 28. The hill is to be cleared and the slope levelled to the new highway, it was explained.

The second was an application
by Richard Sherry on Bannister rd.
Mr. Sherry had applied to the Board of Appeals just before the law was passed so this was a reapplication. Mr. Sherry had previously explained that he wished to sell gravel but at the same time smooth off and slope the land to make house lots.

There were no objectors in either case. However the Selectmen indicated that they might require either a bond or a certified check guaranteeing that the property owner would not leave a raw unsightly spot once the gravel is removed.

MAY HAVE DISCUSSED
NEW BOARD MEMBER

The Board of Public Works went into executive session Monday night, possibly to discuss adding a member to the Board.

When Chairman Allen Flye asked Board members if they had anything to bring up, member David Thompson said he'd like to talk about a replacement for the late P. Le-Roy Wilson, "or would you rather talk about it in private?"

Shortly afterwards, Chairman Flye told newspaper reporters he was going to close the meeting to discuss
"personal matters".

Up to late Tuesday, there had been no announcement from any member of the Board about the private session or the possibility that the wheels were set in motion to appoint a new member.

David May was in Springfield this week on business.

The semi-annual business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the South Church was held last Monday evening in the vestry of the church. William Foster was chosen president.

The bridge over the railroad tracks is not quite finished but cars are now able to use the new structure over No. Main st.

Essays on temperance will be given by members of the South Church Sunday School next Sunday morning.

The Senior Class play will be held in Punchard Auditorium tonight.

Thursday morning marked the beginning of winter, at least in appearance. The first flakes of snow fell.

Frank Davis has accepted a position as driver of the American Express team.

The Rev. J. Edgar Park moved his family to West Newton Wednesday, where he has accepted the pastorate of the Congregational Church.

25 Years Ago — November, 1932

A special committee appointed by the moderator to examine town employee working hours and wages has presented a report to the Finance Committee. There are no recommendations, but a great deal of data has been compiled about hours and wages in surrounding communities.

The Railway Express truck overturned off No. Main st., in a private driveway, yesterday and the driver suffered internal injuries.

A holdup at a private camp on River rd. has resulted in the arrest of five men by Boston police and the preparation of 45 charges against them locally. The men are also wanted in Boston for alleged robbery.

The north and south end of the underpass will be illuminated by flood lights, on order of the state Department of Public Works. There has been considerable danger to traffic approaching the underpass from either end.

The annual fair of the Baptist Church will be held Dec. 10.

Only slight changes were produced by the recount held early this week in the senator and lt. governor contests.

The Legion will hold its annual Christmas Party for the children of the town on Dec. 24. The annual party for members is Dec. 20.

The Selectmen Monday morning journeyed to Boston to confer with state officials about putting traffic lights in Shawsheen sq. It is assumed that half the cost may be paid by the state, as they will be placed at the intersection of a state highway with a town road.

10 Years Ago — November, 1947
Alexander Henderson has been elected master of Andover Grange 183.

Junior High fathers have made plans to hold a football banquet Dec. 10, in the cafeteria. Coach Walter Roberts will be the speaker.

A tentative date of Dec. 17 has been set for the Christmas lights at St. Francis Seminary in West Andover. More than 10,000 bulbs are used in the lighting display.

The amount of $56,054 is due the town in the annual exchange of accounts by the state and town, according to the town treasurer.

Tree Warden G. R. Abbott gave a report on poison ivy control during the annual meeting of the Village Improvement Society. The Society had appropriated $500 for the tree warden's use in buying materials for the roadside spray.

There will be another square dance next Friday night in the West Parish Church vestry. Classes in square dancing have been held in the vestry for several weeks.

Candy Sale To Start Saturday

Camp Fire Girls and Bluebirds will begin their annual candy sale Saturday.

Covering the town by neighborhoods, the girls will call at homes seeking support for their organization.

The money will go toward group projects, training adult leaders and to the Greater Boston Camp Fire Girls headquarters.

Mrs. Gordon Lauder is chairman.

The Boston office organizes training programs for volunteer leaders and coordinates group and district programs.

Teachers' Salary Schedule

A few weeks ago we suggested that the School Committee had a tough job ahead in deciding whether to adopt the salary schedule suggested by the salary committee.

Apparently it wasn't so tough, after all.

For the Committee was able to make the decision in one night, behind doors closed by the chairman's desire to have an executive session.

Executive Session Excuses

For a moment, let's look at this executive session, so as to keep the record straight. From talking to other members of the Committee after the session, it became apparent that all of them were not aware that one would be called. But they didn't want to question their chairman about it, feeling that he probably knew of something coming up which might better be discussed in private. The chairman had stated, as reasons for calling the private meeting, that the budget and some personnel matters would be debated. He was reminded that members of the press, agreeing not to publish very tentative budget figures, have sat through budget discussions many times in order to be fully aware of the Committee's thinking.

Usually Boards and Committees here like to have the newspapers remain fully aware of the thinking behind their actions, so they can be adequately reported to the voters.

But on this occasion, the School Committee chairman also said that personnel matters would be discussed, insisting along the way that the Committee should discuss its budget in private.

We found later that the main topic of discussion was the salary schedule, which was adopted.

This was not a personnel matter, relating to any specific teacher or person employed by the schools; nor was it a purely budgetary matter. It was something the Committee itself believed should be published — but without the reasons for the action.

The Schedule Itself

As far as the new salary schedule is concerned, we feel that the minimum of $3800 and maximum of $6000 are certainly adequate. There should be no problem in attracting new teachers under this program.

The provision that all extra duties, such as coaching, guiding an extra-curricula group and the like, be accomplished without additional payments is also practical. For actually extra pay for some of these jobs was granted more as a means to keep men teachers satisfied than anything else. They should be satisfied, under the new schedule, without extra pay for these duties.

In a year, the salary committee will also come up with recommendations for merit increments. How this will be done is not yet known. But right now we feel that any proposals for additional money should be strictly according to "merit" and should not be based on any other factor. This problem, though, is many months away. Right now, the subject is the new salary schedule — and we are certain that there will be a lot of questions and a lot of opinions on it before town meeting in March.

Time To Appoint A Good Man

There are several good reasons why the Board of Public Works should appoint someone to fill the vacancy on the Board, in cooperation with the Selectmen.

There are no good reasons — that is, reasons within the realm of public interest — why the vacancy should not be filled.

Yet the Board continues to drag its heels officially, at the same time apparently trying privately to make political capital out of the situation.

Apparently the Board, or some of its members at least, are willing to make an appointment if it will do them some good politically — not otherwise. Witness, in support of this belief, the efforts reported in last week's TOWNSMAN to get a member of the Taxpayers Association onto the Board. This, we feel, is pure politics, designed to stifle criticism from the Taxpayers organization by taking them into camp. The attempt didn't work.

It has also been rumored, we believe with some foundation in fact, that at least one member of the BPW would rather see the vacancy continue until the election. There apparently is some hope that candidates might bunch up, seeking the vacancy, leaving the way more or less cleared for the incumbents, Allen Flye and Alex Henderson. This again is a purely political tactic, without reference to the

GOURMET "STEALS"

BY BETTY BLAISDELL

The most elegant entree for a festive dinner will always be — for me — a plate of freshly opened Little Neck clams, at least 10 in number with the usual accompaniments, a good horse-radish sauce and a slice of lemon!

It did my Yankee heart good to read in the interesting new book written of Prunier's (famous Parisian restaurant) that French and now English palates owe this delicate treat to some one American gourmet and our own native shores. It seems that Monsieur Prunier in 1910, convinced of the merits of American clams by one of his American customers, imported from Long Island five tons of Little Neck and Little Neck clams for replanting on the French Atlantic coast. Today Madame Prunier is importing French clams descended from them for her English patrons.

Incidentally, should you be enjoying clams on the half shell for Thanksgiving dinner, too, and find you ordered more than you can eat (is this possible?), don't forget even a half cup of them is enough to make a good cocktail dip. You can freeze it for future use, if you like, remembering to thaw it out early enough ahead before serving, adding a bit of cream and whipping with a fork 'till of proper consistency for serving with crackers or chips. This is the recipe I use:

CLAM CHEESE DIP

1 med. clove garlic
1 cup or less clams
6 oz. pk. cream cheese
1 tsp. Worcestershire
1 tsp. lemon juice
½ tsp. salt
1 or 2 Tbl. clam juice

Put all in electric food blender, cover and give it a minute or two spin. Test for taste and consistency, add cream, mayonnaise, more clam juice or lemon juice, just as you fancy. Turn into a bowl and chill before serving.

CRANBERRY-ORANGE MARMALADE RELISH

It just wouldn't be right to the colonists or the early New England Indians, for that matter, to ignore their favorite food and remedy for ills, the cranberry, to say nothing of the present New England cranberry grower. It is posted by authorities that this year's crop is expected to reach well over a million barrels, so I suppose it is our business to see that none go to waste. The Ocean Spray Home Economist has done a superb job of putting many delicious recipes before us and it doesn't seem necessary to repeat them here, as you've doubtless done a good deal of clipping from the magazines yourselves. Here's a very easy recipe, though, which I used last year and will use again. It takes some of your best bitter Scottish brand of orange marmalade.

4 cups fresh cranberries
2 cups sugar
pinch of salt
rind of 1 lemon
1 cup bitter orange marmalade
1 cup water

best interests of the town.

We don't believe we are being overly righteous when we suggest that this kind of politics is an insult to the town, which deserves full representation on the Board.

We believe it is practical to suggest that the present members of the Board of Public Works should put the interests of the town first, in all their deliberations, including the matter of a new member.

They should take the necessary steps to appoint a member — one who will be a credit to the town and one whom they will be glad to see as a candidate next March. This appointment should be made, according to the methods set forth in the state law, in order to give the townspeople full representation. And the appointee should be a person chosen for ability and integrity, not for any political motives.

Cook cranberries, sugar and water until cranberries pop. Add other ingredients. Chill and serve on relish plate.

BAKED SEAFOOD SALAD (Mrs. Carlton Clift)

This is a wonderful luncheon dish which I am happy to say I relished from the hands of the hostess, herself. It made a tremendous hit with the other small group of guests and, with a good deal of cheek, I called this morning for the recipe:

1 lb. can crab meat
1 cup shrimp
1 cup mayonnaise
1 green pepper chopped
1 small onion chopped
1 cup finely cut celery
½ tsp. salt
pinch of pepper
few drops Worcestershire
1 cup buttered bread crumbs

To the chopped pepper, onion and celery add the seafood the mayonnaise and seasonings. Place in greased casserole, top with crumbs and bake 30 minutes in a 350 degree oven. Makes 6 individual casseroles.

The Dessert Was Yummy, Too!

A light-as-a-feather layered sponge cake with a tasty lemon cream filling and topping. "Dot" and her two daughters, Sara and Janet, have a real flare for baking delectable cakes. This one, however, unbelievably was a baker's cake — a Drake layer sponge which served in four layers with cream between them. Here's "Dot's" recipe for

LEMON-CREAM FILLING (Also Mrs. Clift)

2½ Tbl. flour
¾ cup sugar pinch salt
½ cup strained orange juice grated rind 1 lemon
1 beaten egg
butter size of walnut
Put all in double boiler and cook, while stirring constantly, over boiling water until thickened. Remove and chill. Just before spreading, add jar of whipped cream, place cake in refrigerator until time to serve.

APRICOT BALLS (Mrs. Harold Leitch)

A good confection for your Thanksgiving table, and oh-so-easy, especially if you have an electric blender.
1 lb. dried apricots, ground
1 can condensed milk
1 pkg. dry coconut
½ tsp. vanilla
pinch of salt
Confectioner's sugar
Combine milk and apricots in blender for just a few seconds. Otherwise, use grinder for apricots and combine other ingredients. Roll in balls in confectioner's sugar.

RUM BALLS (Also Mrs. Leitch)

Another delicious confection for the table and good all through the Christmas holiday season.
2 cups vanilla cookies
1 cup cut pecan meats
1 cup confectioner's sugar
2 Tbl. cocoa
2 Tbl. white corn syrup
1/3 cup rum
Mix, roll into balls with confectioner's sugar. It is best to make these three days before serving in order that they hold together. Keep in tight tin to retain freshness and flavor.

Teaching Fellowship Applications Ready

Phillips Academy has announced that applications are now being received by candidates for the Andover Teaching Fellowship Program for 1958-59.

In an effort to help meet the national crisis in the shortage of qualified teachers, Andover instituted its Teaching Fellowship Program as a mean of interesting talented young men in the teaching profession. The need for first-rate teachers is urgent, and this new program — now in its second year — opens a new avenue into the teaching profession. The program is an experiment in teacher recruiting and teacher training, and is planned for college graduates who have not taught. It will be highly flexible in its adaptations to special circumstances, but its basic outlines are set.

The first year of the program is designed to give sound professional training prior to any graduate study. For the first year the Fellow will live at Andover as a member of the faculty, participating in a planned program of teaching under the guidance of the senior members of the Andover faculty. In addition to his teaching duties he will receive experience as a housemaster, athletic coach and moderator of extra curricular activities. In short he will take an active part in all phases of school life.

This first year of the program is designed to give the prospective teacher through his "on the job" experience a clear picture of the life of a teacher and an accurate insight to his own willingness and ability to make a life-time career out of teaching.

The experimental nature of the program centers around this first year of practical experience preceding any graduate study, which is reserved for the second year of the program. In the hope that graduate study pursued after the teaching experience will take on sense of purpose and direction which it might not otherwise have, the Andover Program provides in the second year for graduate study in any college of arts and science of the candidates own choosing, or for a year of study abroad.

Commenting on the Teaching Fellowship Program, Headmaster John M. Kemper said, "We regard the Program as eminently successful and have launched the second-year program with enthusiasm. The Andover Teaching Fellowship Program has proved to be an attractive and effective means of interesting young men in the great work of teaching. Our hopes for the program have been more than justified by the number of applicants for the first two years. One hundred and forty-four applicants from 63 colleges have been received. We are hopeful that the success of our first two years will interest other young men who are to graduate from college this June, to investigate this unique opportunity in the field of education."

Serving as Fellows for the current year are Charles C. Alexander of Concord, Cornelius N. Allen of Elmira, N.Y., James L. A. Kraft of Longmeadow, John Richards II of Groton and Edwin T. Williams of Kansas City, Kan.

Fellows will be chosen this year from the fields of English, ancient and modern languages, history, mathematics, sciences, art and music.

Eligible to apply for the Andover Teaching Fellowships are college seniors or graduates who have not had any teaching experience or graduate work. Applications may be obtained from the Academy.

This program has been made possible by a generous grant from the Harriet M. Spaulding Charitable Trust, named in memory of Mrs. Spaulding, whose husband Huntley N. Spaulding, was a member of the Class of 1889 at Phillips.

Ran 250 Feet On Sidewalk

TOWED AWAY — After travelling some 250 along a Main st. sidewalk; this car, operated by a Princeton ave. man, stopped against a light standard at Murray's Service Station. The accident happened Saturday morning.

An automobile driven by a Princeton ave. resident went out of control last Saturday morning, travelling some 250 feet along a Main st. sidewalk.

In the process, one parking meter was knocked down, the plate glass window in the Michael Jay Shop was cracked, the side window of the W.R. Hill Hardware store was broken; and the front of the Andover Savings Bank was scraped. The car continued along the sidewalk, across Chestnut st. and stopped when it hit the light standard at Murray's Service Station.

Police said John L. Fallon, 59, 52 Princeton ave. was driving the car. With him was Thomas Lebach, 14, 10 George st. Both were taken to the Lawrence General Hospital.

Investigating officer James Gorrie said Fallon "evidently blacked out" and had lost control, leaving his foot on the accelerator.

Officials said Fallon, although badly shaken up, was not seriously hurt. Lebach, treated at the Hospital for a hurt right foot, bruised lower lip and hematoma of the forehead, was released.

The accident happened just before 8 a.m., when the sidewalks were empty of pedestrians, prompting officials to note how lucky it was that Saturday morning shoppers weren't yet on the sidewalks.

BASKETBALL JAMBOREE TO BENEFIT FUND

Club are No. Andover vs Stoneham, Methuen vs Haverhill and Andover vs Lawrence.

The proceeds from this event will go into the scholarship fund, which annually provides a scholarship for a student-athlete, boy or girl, who wants to go on to higher education.

The jamboree was originally established, back in the 1940's to finance the Club. It later was dropped as an annual event, but the Varsity Club this year felt that the scholarship fund offered a basis for renewing the affair. It will be an annual event, Club officials promise.

The Club itself is a student Club, with membership limited to students holding varsity letters and girls who have received sports awards. An annual meeting once a year gives alumni a chance to meet with the members.

Thomas W. Sutton is Club president, with Robert B. McIntyre as faculty advisor and Kenneth K. McKiniry, faculty manager.

WHICH BOY PASSED THE N. P.* TEST?

*NINETY PERCENT

The poised young man at the right of course. You can tell at a glance... and that's why the Ninety-Percent Test is so important. Adults judge even children (and children judge each other) by what they see. It's true that clothes may create slightly less than 90% of the impression Juniors make, but the test is just as important.

Another point to remember: Because children's clothes become so grimy so quickly, it's especially important to have them drycleaned regularly and often. (This kind of care carries a built-in bonus. In addition to looking fresher, drycleaned clothes last longer.)

therefore, in a position to speak for them. However, I can express my views to you as an individual and this letter is so intended.

"I understand that numerous citizens of the Town have indicated that they are as interested in the possibilities of using the Shawsheen Mills filter beds as I am and that you intend to have the matter investigated further. Your decision to ask for a further review is highly commendable and the Town can only hope that this time a more thorough job will be done than appears to have been the case earlier.

"In order to assist you in this effort, I should like to turn over to you such information as I have. Incidentally, this information was available to me at the time of the town meeting and has since been confirmed by direct consultation with the engineering firm that designed and built the beds and with the man who operated them for many years. You may ask why I did not present these facts in detail at the town meeting and my answer would be two-fold.

"1. There was no point in my going any further with the facts after the categorical contradiction from the platform by your consultant.

"2. It was evident that the citizens were acting from a basis of fear — fear of a water shortage. This fear and the contradiction from your consultant indicated to me that I would be extending the discussion needlessly if I continued to speak.

"I am informed by the engineering firm which designed the beds that they are adequate to handle about 4,000,000 gallons per day at a filtering rate for domestic use. It is true that, as your consultant said, 'the beds were designed for industrial use' but that is merely a matter of semantics and is true only in the sense that the need which created them was industrial and that, for domestic use, the beds must be supplemented by some additional equipment. The amount of solid removed is merely a function of the rate of water flow through the beds. They may be used to produce water for domestic use if the flow is reduced somewhat from the volume for industrial use. These particular beds have a capacity of more than 6,000,000 gallons per day for industrial use and just about 4,000,000 per day for domestic use.

"In addition to the filtering, it is necessary to reduce the mineral content, the coloration and the bacterial count. That is done, as you know, with a chlorinator, other chemical feeders and a sedimentation basin. These additional facilities for 2,000,000 gallons per day could be provided for approximately $55,000. Reconditioning of the old filters, if needed, and provision of new pumps, if the existing equipment is inadequate, would run about $12,000 more. To these costs it would be necessary to add the cost of connecting to the system which, in view of the location of the beds, should not be high. It would appear that, if the beds could be leased or purchased at reasonable cost or borrowed at no cost from the Mill people, it could provide at least interim facilities for a number of years and would permit a study of a permanent solution without any sense of urgency, and with adequate review.

"There remain, however, two further questions:

"1. Is there an adequate flow of water?

"2. Would Andover be permitted to use this flow?

"To the first question I can only reply that the man who is in charge of the installation informed me that at no time during the past summer did the flow go 'down the drain', so to speak, drop below 750 gallons per minute. This adds up to a minimum of 1,080,000 gallons per day. Furthermore, I believe that arrangements could be made with the mill people upstream to release additional flow as severe emergencies might necessitate. Ordinarily the flow past the beds varies from 4,000,000 gallons per day on up.

"As to the second question, I do not know all the ramifications of riparian rights but I am not as pessimistic as your consultant was on the platform when he said that it would require legislation and that it would take years. I do not know whether or not legislation would be required (perhaps it merely requires release to the Town by those who now hold the water rights) but I do know that, if I were a legislator, and representatives of a Town came to me and told that, in the midst of a water shortage, there were 1,000,000 gallons or more of water available but being wasted every day because of lack of legislation, it wouldn't take me five minutes to decide how to vote. I don't believe it would take months to get the legislation no less years.

"As a final matter, I should like to make four observations:

"1. Since the Taxpayers had complete faith in the people who gave them this information, you can understand why they were more reluctant than you to place complete reliance on your consultant and why they asked for a review by local engineers. It could very well be that a thorough exploration would uncover other factors that would make it impossible for Andover to use the Shawsheen River or would make it extremely expensive. However, up to the time of the Town Meeting, or for that matter, up to this time, no such factors have been produced, and it would appear that a much more thorough exploration than the Town has had to date is in order. Even if such factors were found, it should be possible with little difficulty and at low cost (probably less than the cost of the small well) to provide adequate water supply from these beds for the present tenants of the Mill. I understand that they use 350,000 gallons of Town water daily and the demand is expected to increase. Any water which would be provided from the filters would release an equivalent amount for other Town use.

"2. Since this question originally arose in public, I believe further discussion of it should be public. All Andover citizens should have this information and I am, therefore, releasing copies of this letter to the press.

"3. Just as a matter of information, I do not receive remuneration from anyone for spending my time to follow this up and dig out the facts. My compensation is the knowledge that perhaps I am being of some service to the community in which I live.

"4. This investigation, I am sure you will agree, took considerably more than 20 minutes."

tion in areas feeding into the Brook.

The initial phase would not relieve flooding in the area now hardest hit, according to the engineers, except that cleaning the brook bed would help increase the water flow to some extent. Isolated bottlenecks, possibly the culvert under Bartlet st., would be remedied under the first stage.

But town officials made it plain that nothing would be done towards committing the town to the first construction stage without being fairly certain that the voters will follow through with the remainder of the project.

This would involve additional authorization from town meeting, they explained. Approximately one-third of the necessary funds, based on the estimate provided Monday, are available and the voters would have to act on the other two-thirds, or about $300,000.

Noting that the project should be undertaken only if it is a long-range plan that will satisfy the needs of the town in the future, the Selectmen said they could not approve doing part of the job, only to find that the town refuses to go along with any more.

First Stage Plans

Getting down to the actual plans, the engineers recommended these construction jobs in stage one:

Replace culvert under railroad with two 70-inch pipes and widen, deepen and pave channel from tracks to Lupine rd.

Replace pipe under Lupine rd. with an 108-inch pipe and widen, pave and deepen channel from Lupine rd. to School st.

Tunnelling under one house on School st. and one on Brook st. would be required.

The end of this stage would be behind the new professional building on Central st., before reaching Main st. At that point water from the present brook would fall into a new catch basin-type structure designed to receive it and from which the water would flow into the new system.

This stage of construction also calls for cleaning the old brook bed in an attempt to get as good a flow of water as possible in the wide, flat areas east of Main st.

Eventually, under stage two, a 78-inch pipe would be tunnelled under Main st. and to Whittier st.

Three Plans Compared
During the discussion of the three plans, these were the dollar comparisons, based on a 50-year plan, 25-year plan or 10-year plan:

Fifty years - stage one, $383,500 and stage two, $497,500;

Twenty-five years - stage one, $378,500 and $497,500 for stage two;

Ten years - $305,000 for the first stage and $457,500 for the second.

Engineers noted that the 10-year plan is somewhat less expensive than the other two, but also pointed out that there is little cost difference between the plans for 25 and 50 years. They urged the long-range plan for 50 years so that there will be no need to redo any of the work in later years.

Selectman Sidney P. White asked if the state would furnish more than 50 percent of the funds, but received an unfavorable reply. Stated Andrew Graf, representing the water-ways division - "it's doubtful". He explained the usual policy is to match funds but occasionally some leeway is allowed, on the personal decision of the commissioner. He also explained that the state will not be bound now to the second stage of the plan, because that comes under another year's appropriations. But he agreed that in many cases, once part of a plan has been agreed upon, the state will follow through and approve the remainder.

Flooding To Continue
Donald Basset, superintendent of the water and sewer departments, asked about the area east of Main st., where most of the trouble has come from overflowing water. He explained that the culvert under Bartlet st. appeared to be a bottleneck.

The engineers, including Hugh Duffill, explained that $40,000 of the first stage cost was allowed for cleaning the Brook bed and eliminating any small bottlenecks in the process. They agreed that the flooding would be cut down only slightly under the first stage construction, but explained that it is necessary to have the west section completed first. Otherwise, they said, the section west of Main st. would not handle the flow of water from the east.

The Selectmen suggested that the plans be studied by themselves, the Finance Committee and Board of Public Works, with an answer to be sent the state within a short time. Mr. Duffill pointed out that it will take three months to draw plans for the first stage, after a decision is reached; and it will be a year's construction job.

Selectmen's Business

The Selectmen have been invited to be present at the laying of a corner stone of the new telephone dial building next Monday morning at 11 a.m. They have been asked to bring along a copy of the town report to be placed in a tube and sealed in the corner.

Arthur Lewis, superintendent of West Parish Cemetery, has been appointed a special police officer. Many merchants have reported to the Selectmen that they are disturbed over the excavation of Main st. for the new telephone cable lines, coming as it does during the Christmas shopping season. The digging will continue for the next three weeks and will run up to the corner of Chestnut st.

The state will be requested to have any new streets they may create by the new Route 28 conform to the town requirements. It has been pointed out that new streets must have town water if at all possible and the state will be asked to lay a main in the new way running parallel to the highway in the Dascomb rd. area.

Debated Cost of Land

Nathan W. Bates of the Trustees of Public Reservations asked the BPW to reconsider its offer of $200 for the land taken on the Ward Reservation for the new reservoir. Mr. Bates said he was notified by town counsel that $300 was voted, $100 was used for legal fees, etc. and $200 would be paid the Trustees for the land. Bates said he felt $1200 would be fair, based on the trustees' need to acquire land somewhere else to replace the amount taken here. The Board promised to discuss the matter and let the trustees know.

Flu Shots

The BPW has again approved giving its employees flu shots and has authorized Highway Supt. Stanley Chlebowski to arrange the matter with Dr. John J. McArdle Jr.

Opened Single Bid

After some discussion about accepting one bid, the Board of Public Works opened the Ralph P. Hall Company's bid for Burnham rd. pumping station equipment. The lone bid was $3941 and was sent the consulting engineers for verification and recommendations. Some 13 sets of specifications had been requested by various firms and it had been expected that many bids would be received.

Work On Civil Defense

The Board of Public Works briefly discussed Civil Defense Monday night, relating to time spent by BPW workmen fixing up a generator at the town yard. Some question arose as to who authorized BPW men to work on mounting the generator on wheels. It also was brought out that the BPW has received a lot of equipment under the C. D. buying program, directed by Harold Wennik.

Whose Car?

When an old-model sedan was parked in the town yard Monday, no one knew exactly why. But questions brought this answer - it's a Civil Defense vehicle, bought by C. D. under Director Harold Wennik. At the board meeting Monday night, members of the BPW knew only that much about the vehicle and didn't even hazard a guess as to what use it will be put to.

WIN TURKEYS

Two turkeys were given out, during a meeting of Cub Pack 76, Ballardvale, Monday night. Charles Partridge of Center st., Ballardvale and William Macartney of Highland rd. received them.

Bids On Water
Bonds At 3%

Water bonds worth $252,000 were bid in last week, with the town receiving an interest rate of three percent and a premium of .129.

The low bidder at that figure was Tucker Anthony and R. L. Day Co. Second low was the Bay State Merchants National Bank at the same interest and a premium of .08. Third was the Arlington Trust Co. of Lawrence, same interest and a premium of .027.

The bonds were authorized at the special town meeting to pay for two new wells and a carrying main.

Town Treasurer Anna M. Greeley said the interest rate, considered by experts to be good, probably was due to the recent lowering of the Federal Reserve Bank discount rate. Some observers had said the rate probably would be 3.3 percent.

Boland Urges Early Mail For Christmas; Labels Available

Three simple rules should be followed to insure proper delivery of Christmas packages.

Postmaster Stephen A. Boland this week urged residents to: wrap them securely, address them correctly and mail them early.

Packages, and cards as well, should be mailed by Dec. 10 for out-of-town delivery and by Dec. 15 for local delivery, the postmaster explained.

He also urged residents to identify their Christmas cards, by labels, for either out-of-town or local delivery. The labels will be available at the Postoffice and every carrier will have them for residents.

"Andover it self, plus Shawsheen, constitute local delivery", Boland stressed. Ballardvale mail is in the out-of-town category and should be tied up and labeled along with other out-of-town mail.

Ballardvale residents, on the other hand, can use "local mail" labels only on bundles of cards for delivery in the Vale. All mail addressed to Andover and Shawsheen, from the Vale, is classed as out-of-town.

Offering a word of advice about mailing packages, the postmaster urged residents to use corrugated cartons, particularly if there are a number of various sized objects in the carton. All individual items should be carefully wrapped and plenty of wadded tissue or paper should be used in the carton to make certain they are shock-proof. Tie with heavy cord. Boland also suggested including an extra address label inside the carton, before it is wrapped.

FREE PARKING ACROSS STREET

This new-type concrete road will last 50 years . . . and more.

Drive it on America's new Interstate System highways

New-type, sound-conditioned concrete will still be fun to drive in '75

Not a "thump" to be heard on this continuous-laid concrete. It's almost like riding above the pavement, instead of on it. Sound-conditioned concrete has no joints . . . only tiny, sawed cushion spaces. You skim over them and don't know it! "Air-entrainment" prevents surface roughening, keeps concrete smooth. Laid flat, new-type concrete stays flat and will last 50 years and more.

The Interstate System is planned for the traffic of 1975 . . . when concrete laid today will still be "new" and fun to drive.

Built-in safety for Massachusetts highways

The grainy texture of new-type concrete resists skids even when wet. No unevenness, no "fighting the wheel." It reflects light, too. You see up to 4 times better at night on light-colored concrete than on a dark surface.

PORTLAND CEMENT ASSOCIATION 20 Providence Street, Boston 16, Massachusetts and arrangements by Mrs. Charles H. Hollis. Afternoon tea will be served by the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. Michael S. O'Brien and Mrs. Foster C. Barnard, co-chairmen. The other members of the committee are Mrs. John K. Colby, Mrs. Albert E. Jewell and Mrs. Lewis Warlick.

The annual green sale will take place at this meeting, under the direction of Mrs. Douglas B. Pitman and Mrs. Leslie Hutchison, co-chairmen of the Horticulture Department and Mrs. Archer Bolton and Mrs. Henry Van Zandt, co-chairmen of the Flower Arrangement Committee. Others working on the green sale are Mrs. Joseph Myatt, Mrs. Roy Hardy, Mrs. James Holihan, Mrs. Victor Mill Jr., Mrs. William T. Rich III and Mrs. Edwin L. Bramley. Audubon material will be placed on sale by the Conservation Committee, Mrs. J. Everett Collins and Miss Bessie Goldsmith, co-chairmen, assisted by Mrs. Wilson Knipe, Mrs. E. Wells McLean, Mrs. William Weiss and Mrs. Everett L. Hull.
